Quaggy Development Trust
Annual Review 2018-19

Our satisfaction survey shows parents are 98% completely satisfied and 97% of families said their wellbeing had improved since their child was referred to the service. The growth and professionalism of the staff and volunteers has been excellent. QCCS recognises the importance of perinatal mental health for new and expectant parents. We have received 106 referrals into the service have from a wide range of professionals as well some clients who self-referred. QCCS continued to work at full capacity over the past year.

Volunteering and Staff Development

We believe that music offers many ways to support young children and families, and our speech and language practitioner’s work is now embedded across all our Centres, with parents asking when they can attend the next ‘Musical Beginnings’ course. The Quaggy Café has become a community hub for adults and children. All QDT staff for their hard work and loyalty to QDT.

Work in the Community

Children’s Centres

86% of parents have been satisfied with their child’s learning and development and 79% of parents said their child enjoyed learning and being at the centre. We believe that music offers many ways to support young children and families, and our speech and language practitioner’s work is now embedded across all our Centres, with parents asking when they can attend the next ‘Musical Beginnings’ course. The Quaggy Café has become a community hub for adults and children. All QDT staff for their hard work and loyalty to QDT.

Supporting Families

56% of families made big progress across all areas of parenting. 56% of families made big progress across all areas of parenting. 56% of families made big progress across all areas of parenting. Our speech and language practitioner’s work is now embedded across all our Centres, with parents asking when they can attend the next ‘Musical Beginnings’ course. The Quaggy Café has become a community hub for adults and children. All QDT staff for their hard work and loyalty to QDT.

Future Plans and Key Objectives to 2019-2021

- Develop our perinatal provision through targeted activities.
- Support Older People through intergenerational social cohesion.
- Develop volunteer opportunities across QDT.
- Involve people to find out the kind of activities they would like to do.

Stitching Gaps

We believe that music offers many ways to support young children and families, and our speech and language practitioner’s work is now embedded across all our Centres, with parents asking when they can attend the next ‘Musical Beginnings’ course. The Quaggy Café has become a community hub for adults and children. All QDT staff for their hard work and loyalty to QDT.

PARTNERS AND FUNDERS

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Sue McKee, Chair, Quaggy Development Trust

Thank you to everyone who has contributed to this year’s Annual Review, which outlines some of the a